RE: NOTICE OF FORCE MAJEURE

Basler Electric Company has recently received notices from its plastic parts suppliers of an industry-wide shortage in the availability of resin material. This material is used to produce the plastic bobbins utilized in many of our transformer designs.

Due to this notice, we are declaring force majeure in regards to the ship dates of current open orders. We are actively monitoring the availability of raw material in relation to our production capacity, and will provide regular updates to you on the status of your orders. Any new orders will be subject to material availability with potentially extended lead times.

Please contact your corresponding Basler Regional Sales Manager with any questions in regards to this announcement.

We continue to do everything possible to minimize the impact on our supply to you.

Sincerely,

Tom Harnetiaux
Vice President of Sales
