

NOTIFICATION MESSAGE

While we at TE continue to focus on the safety and health of our employees, we want to acknowledge our key partners and thank you for your continued support and patience as we navigate these unforeseen times.

As the COVID-19 pandemic continues to affect the global landscape, there remains in effect many country governmental travel restrictions and border delays that continue to create unanticipated labor and material shortages. While we continue to work tirelessly to mitigate many challenges, we anticipate these restrictions and delays will be in place for the foreseeable future and continue to impact our supply chain and shipments. While these impacts continue, we will provide a more frequent update to the global situation.

As of today, all manufacturing plants and distribution centers in China and other Asian locations are operating under normal operations. Most Asian countries remain open for commerce through their borders.

For our European manufacturing sites and distribution centers, many of these locations are under normal operations, other than sites in France, Italy, Spain and India. We currently anticipate these locations will reopen by the end of April. The resumption of operations in all these countries is predicated on governmental approval. Most European countries remain open for commerce through their borders with many setting up fast lanes specifically for commerce.

For our Americas region, many of our manufacturing sites and distribution center locations remain in operation. In US and Canada, all operations are operating under normal conditions. As noted for Mexico, several of our manufacturing sites in Sonora are impacted by governmental restrictions on non-essential sites. We have submitted documentation to allow essential operation approval. All other sites within Mexico, outside of the State of Sonora, remain operational. Most Americas countries remain open for commerce through their borders except Argentina and Columbia anticipated to re-open by end of April.

While in all regions ground and air transportation continues to be challenged, we are working to find alternative transportation resources to address these delivery challenges.

Orders impacted will to the degree feasibly possible continue to be rescheduled, along with any lead time changes which will be updated on our ecommerce system.

A large majority of our employees are working from home, so we are still able to answer your calls, chats and emails, provide quotes, and offer the technical support you've come to expect from TE. We are available 24x7 through our global network of consultants. In addition, TE.cm is always available to answer your product needs.

We remain committed to assist our partners through this event and appreciate your continued support of our mutual customers. Please liaise with your TE sales representatives or customer service staff to address any concerns regarding the impact on your orders or projects with TE.

Please cascade this message as appropriate within your organization, but we ask that you do not post this update on your website or provide copies to anyone outside your organization given that this situation continues to evolve. Should you have any questions regarding this notice, contact your TE sales representative.